A Farewell to the Presidency

by Sally Wingler, Tennessee Hereford Association President

I have completed my term as president of the Tennessee Hereford Association. As I pass the gavel, with best wishes, to Zachary Hopkins our new president, only one line comes to mind summarizing my experiences as your president, "I have learned a lot." It has been said, "If years from now you are not learning something new every day, it means you're not trying hard enough."

One thing I learned; it takes a village to make things happen. Things just don't happen without a wealth of support and lots of hard work from many individuals. I have always had a passion to serve, as well as a love for event planning and fundraising. I have always loved working with different groups of people organizing events.

The Tennessee Hereford Association really took a chance selecting a small-town farm girl with a passion to serve. Nevertheless, you afford me the opportunity and milestones were accomplished. I have enjoyed being a part of all of them. Thanks for making this milestone so special for me and thanks for being such an important part of my Hereford journey.

My plans are to remain active in the Tennessee Hereford Association. I will always be looking ahead for ways to improve existing programs as well as proposals for new ones. I would like to help create more opportunities for tomorrow's leaders, through leadership training and education. We are not through growing yet! The sky's the limit as to what can be accomplished with the awesome momentum and the much-needed support that surrounds the Tennessee Hereford Association.

There are numerous young people in the beef industry and especially the Hereford breed with inspiring and empowering enthusiasm. One day, they will become our leaders. The American Hereford Association continues to push forward, not only with the quality of cattle, but also with youth and the breeders. They have provided many opportunities that encourage young members to break out of their comfort zone, try new things, meet new people, and build connections. If you ask, "What do you like most about the Hereford breed?" Many will say, relationships.

Former President Abraham Lincoln said it best, "The better part of one's life consists of his friendships." It is true that today Hereford competition is strong, but friendships and fellowships are stronger. You know, people make cattle not vice versa. Leadership and personal growth are only possible if we take advantage of Hereford opportunities. We've never lived the day we are living today, but we can draw on yesterday's experiences and tomorrow's hopes to make the best choices that will impact us in our business, relationships, faith, health, and especially the Hereford breed.

Thank you Sally for your hard work and dedication to the THA and the Hereford breed!

TENNESSEE HEREFORD ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING

by Kathryn Ingram

The 2023 Tennessee Hereford Annual meeting was held in Lebanon, Tennessee at the Wilson county fairgrounds on March 10, 2023. THA President, Sally Wingler welcomed everyone.

The agenda was ammended to allow for the presentation of the 2023 THA Family of the Year to be presented before the meal. Stan Webster came forward to present the award to Tommy and Kim Coley.

Tommy Coley was born into a Hereford family and has continued to work in this industry in various professions. He and his wife, Kim, have worked tirelessly to promote the Hereford breed and assist Hereford juniors. The Coley family will be featured in the upcoming summer newsletter.

Tommy and Kim Coley family with Stan Webster

Four director were nominated and elected. Sally Wingler, Jeremiah Malone, and Stan Webster had fulfilled two full terms on the committee and were not eligible for re-election. Eric Walker provided the introductions of the Director Nominees.

Russell Crouch- Russell owns and operates Crouch Polled Hereford Farm in McMinnville, Tennessee. He has raised purebred Herefords since 2013.

Jason Day- Jason owns Day Ridge Farm, Telford, Tennessee, where he utilizes embryo transfer and AI to maintain top genetics in the herd he began in 2016.

Josh Mansfield- Josh, his wife and parents started Ridgetop Farms in 2012. He began with a commercial herd and transitioned to purebred Herefords. Ridgetop Farms is recognized as a Gold TPR breeder.

Emily Martin Pope- Emily along with her husband, Justin and her mom and sisters operate Martin Polled Herefords in Dyer, Tennessee. Emily started her involvement with Herefords in her youth, exhibiting at local, regional, state, and national levels.

Walker put forth a motion to cease nominations and elect the four nominees by acclamation. The motion was seconded and passed. The four will serve three year terms.

The Hereford Women of Tennessee made several presentations. The Hereford Women Scholarship recipients were Madison Maupin and Sara Beth Callicott. Sally Wingler presented outgoing Tennessee Hereford Queen, Jaclyn Aiken with a plaque of appreciation.

Jaclyn then had the honor to crown the incoming 2023 Tennessee Hereford Queen, Madison Maupin. Madison is the daughter of Jason and Angela Maupin of Eagleville, Tennessee. Madison will also be featured in the Summer THA Newsletter.

The Farmer Needs a Voice Too

by Mitch Ingram

A tax on cows for emissions, really. In 2016, that is exactly what happened with dairy cattle in California. Recently, there were rumors of a $2600 cow tax in the infrastructure bill's environmental section. Luckily, they were only rumors, and the target area was the oil and gas industry.

Many people do not like to get involved in politics due to reputations in Washington DC and other states that have tainted our faith in the political system. Springtime is when legislation occurs in Nashville and Washington that affects our everyday lives with a stroke of a pen.

Tennessee has nearly 70,000 farms with an average size of 154 acres generating $81 billion for the state economy while employing over 320,000 people. Cattle are the top commodity in the Volunteer state with over 1.7 million head with 870,000 being mature momma cows. We must stay abreast of the issues and policies occurring at every level.

In Tennessee annually there are hundreds, yes hundreds of bills filed in each legislative session. Many of the bills can be tracked at <https://www.capitol.tn.gov/legislation/>. Please get to know your local state representatives and state senators to voice your opinion on these. We are very fortunate to have supportive leadership in Agriculture with Governor Lee and Dr. Hatcher but other organizations such as the Tennessee Cattleman's Association, Tennessee Hereford Association, and Tennessee Farm Bureau are vital in representing our best interests.

One of the hottest topics this year is the 2023 Farm Bill. The farm bill is a package of legislation passed roughly once every five years. This bill has a tremendous impact on farming livelihoods, how food is grown, and what kinds of foods are grown. The Farm bill covers programs ranging from Commodities, Conservation, Trade, Nutrition, Credit, Rural Development, Research, Extension, and Related Matters, Forestry, Energy, Horticulture, Crop Insurance, and others.

The original farm bill(s) were enacted in three stages during the 1930s as part of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt's New Deal legislation. Its three original goals – to keep food prices fair for farmers and consumers, ensure an adequate food supply, and protect and sustain the country's vital natural resources – responded to the economic and environmental crises of the Great Depression and the Dust Bowl.

While the farm bill has changed in the last 70 years, its primary goals are the same. National Organizations such as National Cattlemen's Beef Association, American Hereford Association, American Farm Bureau, and others must advocate for family farmers and sustainable agriculture, to make sure that this important bill is good for farmers, consumers, and the natural environment.

I encourage you to become involved in what goes on in your county. Attend County Commission and School Board Meetings. Become active in your local Cattleman Association, County Ag Committee, Soil Conservation Boards, County Farm Bureau meetings, and other groups that begin the grassroots efforts to be the advocates we need. Thomas Payne said, "Not in numbers but Unity that our great strength lies". How true that is.
